DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3-6, 8, and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tracy '204 or Borzachillo in view of Whitener '661.

Tracy '204 or Borzachillo discloses an aircraft having a fuselage, control system or systems, thin supersonic wings with low sweep angularity and low torsional stiffness, trailing edge flaps that are configured to provide flap deflection to simultaneously control wing twist and to reduce drag when the aircraft is in the subsonic flight conditions. Tracy '204 or Borzachillo is silent on the use of at least four trailing edge flaps that can be positioned to control the airflow on the wings.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to have used at least four flaps in Tracy '204 or Borzachillo's system as taught by Whitener '661 to allow a more efficient and more maneuverable flight.

Please note that the flaps closer to the fuselage can have a greater downward deflection than the ones near the wing tips are steps that one skilled in the art would have taken to allow the aircraft to fly more efficiently at lower speed. Please also note that Tracy '204 or Borzachillo teaches that the flaps can be positioned at different downward deflection to make the aircraft more controllable.

Re claims 3, 4, and 5, please note that due to the shapes of the wings in Tracy '204 and Borzachillo inherently discloses the center of pressure and torsional elastic center. When the flaps are moved during certain flight conditions, the center of pressure and torsional elastic center moved with respect to each other.

Re claim 6, please note that the flaps of Tracy '204 or Borzachillo provide camber acting.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tracy '204 or Borzachillo as modified by Whitener '661 applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Tunlinius.

Tracy '204 or Borzachillo as modified by Whitener '661 discloses all claimed parts except for the means to monitor wing twist. However, Tunlinius discloses that means to monitor wing twists are well known in the art.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to have used a means to monitor wing twists in Tracy '204 or Borzachillo's system as modified by Whitener '661 as taught by Tunlinius to provide closed loop feedback and to allow the aircraft to fly efficiently.

Response to Arguments

The Examiner has rejected the newly amended claims. This renders applicant's arguments moot.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
